Welcome!

Welcome to our "365 Discovery Days" guide.

Belgium is overflowing with an incredible choice and exceptional variety of excursion ideas for the whole family. Our country is home to over 365 tourist attractions and museums you can enjoy exploring throughout the year.

There is something for every taste here: children will have a great time at our amusement parks, animal reserves and zoos. And why not treat the family to a boat trip too? Sports fans will appreciate our many leisure centres and aquatic attractions, while culture buffs will love our museums, local curiosities, historic sites and ancient monuments.

We hope this brand new guide will give you an even better travel experience, topped with plenty of fun and a world of new discoveries.

Enjoy!

The Flemish coastline between France and the Netherlands covers 67 km, 10 communities each with their own character offer every visitor something to his taste. Even if you are staying for a short holiday or just spending a day off at the coast, there is so much more to discover in addition to the sea, the sand and the beach. Amusement parks and zoos, enjoyable attractions and interesting museums are happy to welcome you. The coast is a holiday destination for every season and as for the attractions, there is a lot to explore the whole year through! More information about the region in general can be found on www.dekust.be. Info about attractions at the coast in particular is available on www.365.be or www.kustattracties.be.

Brugge is one of Europe's most beautiful cities. In 2000 UNESCO put the whole town centre on the list of cultural heritage for good reason. Various museums offer an impressive view of the turbulent history of this city. You will discover a wealth of historic-cultural and art museums and experience ultra-modern exhibitions. Just outside the centre you can enjoy nature and have fun with dolphins. A city trip to Bruges with the whole family is an excellent idea! More information about the town in general can be found on www.brugge.be. Info about the attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

Join us in creating a worldwide poppy field.

100 years ago, war raged in Europe and changed the face of history. To commemorate the thousands of lives it claimed, we would like you to join us in creating a worldwide poppy field. All you have to do is visit flandersfields1418.com/poppyfield, where you will be able to plant a virtual poppy to commemorate one of the many people who died during the Great War. Help keep the memory alive.

The Westhoek is situated to the far west of the country, a virtually unspoiled part of Flanders, near France and the North Sea. The many scars of "The great War" bear witness to an eventful history, more than 100 years ago now. Various museums and visitor centres keep this memory alive. The authenticity of the region has been kept almost intact, as you will see when you have a taste of the many delicious regional products, such as the biscuits of Jules Destrooper! More information about the region in general can be found on www.toerismewesthoek.be. Info about the region's attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

The Leie region is situated along both sides of the river Leie, reaching from the French border to the Artevelde city of Ghent. The region became well-known for its flax industry. At the beginning of the last century more than 13.000 people worked in the flax factories and over 120 million kilos of flax were processed then. Today you can walk along the banks of the Leie and enjoy the heritage, the recreation areas and water fun. Who does not know about the battle of the Golden Spurs in 1302? More information about the region in general can be found on www.toerisme-leiestreek.be. Info about the region's attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

Meetjesland is probably one of Flanders least known regions. It is a region of "natural beauty" in the truest sense of the words. In Meetjesland you are miles away from busy cities like Ghent and Bruges, which surround the region to the east and west. The cultural heritage is carefully preserved. Magnificent nature reserves invite you to relax. Discover the unique area with creeks to the north, adjacent to Zeeland Flanders! More information about the region in general can be found on www.toerismemeetjesland.be. Info about the region's attractions is available on www.365.be.

Scheldeland is the Scheldt region which is situated in the centre of Flanders, in the middle of the triangle Ghent-Antwerp-Brussels. Some may know the region from the television series "Stille Waters". There is however, a lot to discover along the Scheldt, Dender and Rupel. Scheldeland is Flanders' region with the highest number of water areas. Explore the region on a boat or visit an interesting museum. Enjoy the charms of the recreation areas or remember the horrors of war in Breendonk! More information about the region in general can be found on www.scheldeland.be. Info about the region's attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

For centuries, Antwerp and Mechelen, two important cities in the middle of the country, have fulfilled a decisive role in the history of our land. Politically as well as economically both cities have always occupied a central position. Therefore, they have a lot to offer. Fantastic museums with dazzling collections, but also well-known recreation resorts such as our national zoos! More information about both cities in general can be found on www.visitantwerpen.be and www.toerismemechelen.be. Info about the attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

The Antwerpse Kempen or the Antwerp Campine region makes many of us think of "De Stille Kempen", the purple heath and the vast pine woods. However, the region has a lot more to offer than its vast area of pure nature. Many recreation areas are relaxation oases for families with children. The playgrounds and amusement parks guarantee fun and the many museums in cities and villages depict the history of this marvellous region! More information about the region in general can be found on www.antwerpsekempen.be. Info about the attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

The name Green Belt describes the green area in the truest sense of the word. This region represents the green lung surrounding Brussels and entirely embracing the Brussels Capital-region. To the west you will find hilly Pajottenland and the Zenne valley. To the north of the capital you will find the Brabantse Kouters and Dijleland is situated to the east. The region mainly offers many green recreation facilities, from vast areas to our national pride, Meise botanical gardens. More information about the region in general can be found on www.groenegordel.be. Info about the region's attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

Louvain, a city of students and brewers. Louvain has been the University City of Flanders since its foundation in 1425. Later on Stella Artois completed the picture and became a world-famous brewery. Would that be a coincidence? Louvain also offers numerous museums, «M – Museum Leuven» being the best known. It also has a rich heritage of historic buildings and sites: abbeys, beguinages, carillons, churches, faculty buildings and last but not least, the widely known Town Hall. More information about the region in general can be found on www.visitleuven.be. Info about the attractions in particular is available on www.365.be

Hageland

The Hageland is one of Flanders' lesser known regions. This eastern part of Flemish Brabant lies to the east of Louvain and is the gate to Haspengouw. In Hageland fruit cultivation is also omnipresent. Cities like Tienen, Aarschot, Landen and Diest are certainly cosy places to visit. Relics from the Gallo-Roman times run like a red thread through various city museums. Certainly pay a visit to the Sugar Museum in Tienen. More information about the region in general can be found on www.hageland.be. Info about the region's attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

Maasland

Through the centuries the Maas has created a unique landscape. Green plains, creeks and marsh land with lots of water birds, plants and herbs. Next to the twisting river a series of picturesque Maas villages arose, where culture, heritage and museums define the local colour. A tip: discover the region on a horse-drawn cart. The beautiful landscape and water richness of the Maasland indeed offer many recreational possibilities. Plenty of water fun in the Maasland. More information about the region in general can be found on www.toerismelimburg.be. Info about the attractions in particular is available on www.365.be.

's-Gravenvoeren

The Voer-region is formed by 6 small villages: Moelingen, 's-Gravenvoeren, Sint-Martens-Voeren, Sint-Pieters-Voeren, Teuven and Remersdaal. With its breathtaking landscape, nature reserves, churches, castles and old farms, timber frame houses, the paternoster of chapels and field crucifixes, the viaduct and a wide variety of plants and animals, the region has an irresistible appeal for the visitors. Discover this region through the 125 km marked walks or the cycling and mountainbike network. Located in the heart of the Euregio, the Voer-region is the ideal starting point for many interesting day trips. Historical cultural cities like Maastricht, Tongeren, Liège or Aachen, but also the High Fens (Ardennes) are nearby.

Bicentenary of the Battle of Waterloo (June)

Wallonia,
why look any further?

Tourism in Wallonia - let the sun shine!

In Wallonia, the term «Tourist Attraction» is a protected designation, awarded by the Commissariat General au Tourisme (Belgian Tourist Board). Attractions awarded this distinction also benefit from a classification system of «Suns» (one to five).

The number of «Suns» refers first and foremost to the quality of the experience provided to visitors, which includes criteria such as service quality, opening times, disabled access and foreign languages, to name but a few.

To receive their first «Sun», attractions must publish a leaflet containing a description and practical information, and offer a clearly-identifiable reception area.

«Three Sun» attractions must offer services such as electronic payment, and be able to welcome guests in two languages.

«Five Sun» attractions must offer a shop and be able to welcome guests in three languages.

©CGT - A. Siquet - Ruined medieval castle in La Roche-en-Ardenne

Tourist attractions committed to offering faultless quality are guaranteed to satisfy their visitors, who will undoubtedly become their leading ambassadors in turn!

Welcome to Wallonia, where our «Suns» always shine...

All the better to serve you!

Brabant wallon

Brabant wallon will provide the setting for an extraordinary historical reconstruction celebrating the bicentenary of the Battle of Waterloo from June 18th to 21th, 2015, with 5,000 extras, 300 horsemen and around 100 cannons on the battlefield. The commemoration will also include the inauguration of a new memorial.

Luxembourg

Nestling in the heart of the Ardennes, Belgian Luxembourg is a beautifully-preserved corner of paradise. You will love exploring its magnificent scenery lined with hills, forests and wild valleys, and many and varied cultural treasures. The unique atmosphere of this province's human-scale towns, such as Durbuy, La Roche, Bastogne and Bouillon, is truly charming.
